

This map illustrates the distribution of mobile phone base stations in the Omiya area of Tokyo. The density of stations is represented by a color gradient, with the highest concentration (red/orange) in the central urban core. The map includes labels for major landmarks such as Omiya Station, Omiya Park, and various educational and commercial facilities. A scale bar at the bottom right indicates a distance of 500 meters and a scale of 1:1,837.
